PUNITIVE STEPS AGAINST EXTREMIST ASKED

Havana PRENSA LATINA in Spanish 2140 GNT 5 July 1965-E (Pon-oppicial VCC

(Excerpt) Buenos Aires, 5 July While rumors of a coup are increasing, the government, in a McCarthy-like campaign launched in recent weeks by several reactionary groups, has just taken the first official step toward repressing the leftwing forces by means of a resolution which lumps together the fascist organizations and the Communist Youth Federation. Interior Minister Juan Palmero issued a resolution which demands that the Justice Ministry take punitive measures against the members and supporters of the Tacuara nationalist novement, its Nationalist Students Union branch, the Nationalist Restoration Guard, and the Communist Youth Rederation (PJC).

According to a special report issued by the federal police upon the request ---of the ministry, the resolution is based upon the charge that the organizations are acting as "veritable lawless associations" in "carrying out violent actions." It is also planned to instruct the federal police to give the utmost cooperation to the Justice Department in order to investigate the facts and, when necessary, to arrest the perpetrators."

REATPACKING INDUSTRY CRISIS -- Buenos Aires -- Two of the largest meatpacking plants in Argentina, Swift and Armour, have reduced their operations, claiming that the Argentine currency they receive for their imports does not cover the costs of meat prices-in-the domestic market. Numerous workers have been fired as a result of this reduction in operations, thus compounding the meatpacking crisis. (Buenos Aires ANSA Spanish 0126 ONT 6 July 1965 -- F) Sources close to the Argentine economic cabinet have reported that the restriction of an Argentine neat consumption will ban the handling and consumption of neat on Fridays and Saturdays instead of Mondays and Tuesdays. Exports will be stepped up. - . - . exempting steers for export from taxes. The economy minister has received a committee representing the 8,000 meatpeacking industry workers affected by a decline in operations, assuring them that the government is considering measures to reactivate those industries to promote exports of meat and its Typroducts.
